Important Health Warning About Playing Video Games

Photosensitive seizures

A very small percentage of people may experience a seizure when exposed to certain visual images, including flashing lights or patterns that may appear in video games. Even people who have no history of seizures or epilepsy may have an undiagnosed condition that can cause these “photosensitive epileptic seizures” while watching video games.

These seizures may have a variety of symptoms, including lightheadedness, altered vision, eye or face twitching, jerking or shaking of arms or legs, disorientation, confusion, or momentary loss of awareness. Seizures may also cause loss of consciousness or convulsions that can lead to injury from falling down or striking nearby objects.

Immediately stop playing and consult a doctor if you experience any of these symptoms. Parents should watch for or ask their children about the above symptoms—children and teenagers are more likely than adults to experience these seizures. The risk of photosensitive epileptic seizures may be reduced by taking the following precautions: Sit farther from the screen; use a smaller screen; play in a well-lit room; do not play when you are drowsy or fatigued.

If you or any of your relatives have a history of seizures or epilepsy, consult a doctor before playing.

Connecting

Before you can use Xbox LIVE, connect your Xbox 360 console to a high-speed Internet connection and sign up to become an Xbox LIVE member. For more information about connecting, and to determine whether Xbox LIVE is available in your region, go to www.xbox.com/live/countries.

Family Settings

These easy and flexible tools enable parents and caregivers to decide which games young game players can access based on the content rating. Parents can restrict access to the mature-rated content. Approve who and how your family interacts with others online with the Xbox LIVE service. And set time limits on how long they can play. For more information, go to www.xbox.com/familysettings.

INTRODUCTION

Logan, aka Wolverine, was a member of an elite military strike force known as Team X. Joined by other mutant soldiers such as his own half-brother, Victor Creed, Logan followed the orders of Col. William Stryker — until one fateful day when those orders went too far. Logan took the opportunity to pursue a normal life and retreated to the Canadian wilderness, settling down with Kayla, the love of his life. The next three years were the happiest of his life...until the death of Kayla at the hands of Logan's own flesh and blood. Bent on revenge, Logan accepted an offer from Stryker to receive the "tools" necessary to defeat Victor. Without knowing the colonel's nefarious ulterior motives, Logan allowed for his entire skeleton to be coated with the indestructible metal alloy known as adamantium — including the lethal claws that project from his hands. The time has come for Logan to exact his vengeance. Are you up to the challenge, bub?
