Important Health Warning About Playing Video Games

Photosensitive seizures

A very small percentage of people may experience a seizure when exposed to certain visual images, including flashing lights or patterns that may appear in video games. Even people who have no history of seizures or epilepsy may have an undiagnosed condition that can cause these “photosensitive epileptic seizures” while watching video games.

These seizures may have a variety of symptoms, including lightheadedness, altered vision, eye or face twitching, jerking or shaking of arms or legs, disorientation, confusion, or momentary loss of awareness. Seizures may also cause loss of consciousness or convulsions that can lead to injury from falling down or striking nearby objects.

Immediately stop playing and consult a doctor if you experience any of these symptoms. Parents should watch for or ask their children about the above symptoms—children and teenagers are more likely than adults to experience these seizures. The risk of photosensitive epileptic seizures may be reduced by taking the following precautions: Sit farther from the screen; use a smaller screen; play in a well-lit room; do not play when you are drowsy or fatigued.

If you or any of your relatives have a history of seizures or epilepsy, consult a doctor before playing.

ONLINE BATTLE

What is an Online Battle

Fight other players online on Xbox LIVE®.

Online Battle Game Flow

Select Match Menu

You can fight online battles with many different conditions. Choose the match menu you want.

Meet and fight an opponent

Search for players who meet certain conditions and battle the players you find.

Rankings change due to battle results

If you chose Ranked Match (p.20), your battle points will increase or decrease and your ranking will go up or down depending on whether you won or lost.

Match Menu

When you join an online battle, the following match menu will be displayed.

Ranked Match	Fight a one-on-one battle. Your battle points will increase or decrease depending on whether you win or lose.
Player Match	Fight a one-on-one battle. Your battle points will not change.
World Tournament	Hold a tournament with 2 to 8 players. Your battle points will not change.
Xbox LIVE party	Battle a friend in a room that they have invited you to. Your battle points will not change.
Leaderboards	View the rankings.
Battle Record	Check your own battle stats and change titles.

Match Type

When playing a Ranked Match, Player Match, or World Tournament, you must select the match type from the following:

Quick Match	Search for a room without specifying search conditions.
Custom Match	Search for a host's room that meets certain conditions
Create Match	Create a room that meets your own specifications and then wait for other players to join.

Creating a Room

If you cannot find an opponent that matches your search conditions, you can become a host yourself by creating a room. After selecting the room settings, you must wait for other players to join.

Battle Points

Battle points are obtained or lost at the end of ranked matches. You get points by winning a match and lose them by losing. When you save up a certain number of points, your rank will go up by one (however, if you subsequently lose points, you can go down in rank). Ranks range from G (the lowest) to S++ (the highest) and are displayed on the player information screen.

World Tournament

Play an online tournament. This is almost identical to offline World Tournament Mode, but the tournament format is locked at “World Tournament” and “Cell Games” cannot be selected.

Special Rules

Unlike the offline World Tournament, the online tournament uses some special rules.

- While other players are in a battle, you will be idle.
- There are no ties. The player with the most Health when the time limit elapses will be the winner. If both players' Health reach 0 at the same time, the player farther to the left in the tournament will be the winner.
- If a player's opponent is the CPU, the player will automatically win (there are no battles against the CPU).
- Battles between two CPU characters are not fought. The CPU character farther to the left in the tournament will automatically win.

Leaving partway through the tournament

If you want to leave partway through the tournament, press ESC on the tournament screen. (If you leave before your character has been defeated, the CPU will take over your character.) Please note that once you leave a tournament, you cannot return.
